

Simply, I want to go on record as being opposed to most of SB-1076.

An attack is being made on the rights of the good hard working law abiding citizens of Connecticut because of the unimaginable act of a mentally ill madman. Connecticut has some of the most restrictive gun laws in the country and now we may be burdened with more. The criminal or mentally ill person hell-bent on doing evil doesn't care about the present laws or anything new that you may add, it's the law abiding citizens that will bear the burden.

If you want to extend background checks for long guns in hopes of preventing criminals or the mentally ill from getting one I'm all for it. The rest of what's proposed does nothing to prevent crime or evil acts.

Let's work on keeping the bad guy's in jail, finding help for the mentally ill, taking the handcuffs off of our police and let them enforce the law, and mostly just enforce the laws already on the books.

Thank you,
